Description

Set of mid-century sterling silver cutlery in the scarce but desirable Glamis pattern. All pieces have a lovely elegant shape with Art Deco streamlining, while the plain tapering surface of each handle is embellished with a convex ribbed design to the terminal.

Glamis pattern is a private design made by Cooper Brothers & Sons and this flatware set comprises:

- 12 table forks
- 12 dessert forks
- 12 dessert spoons (1 x 1960)
- 12 round bowl soup spoons (1 x 1960)
- 12 grapefruit spoons
- 12 coffee spoons
- 12 table knives
- 12 dessert knives
- 2 sauce ladles (1 x 1966)
- 1 carving set: knife, fork & sharpening steel

Probably nothing to do with the name of this cutlery pattern but the small Scottish village of Glamis was the inspiration for William Shakespeare's Macbeth and Glamis Castle was the ancestral home of Queen Elizabeth The Queen Mother. Her younger daughter, Queen Elizabeth II, was a frequent visitor.
