Description

Antique Victorian-era seven section collapsing silver beaker with slightly domed chained cover that is engraved with original entwined gothic style initials and a ducal coronet. The interior is gilded and the beaker collapses to 13mm. Finely made, this example works very well and does not leak, as many others do!

Retailed by A W Dear, Hyde Park Corner, it is a perfect travelling accessory.

Sampson Mordan were premier specialist makers of beautifully made small objects from pens to menu holders. Everything they produced was of the highest quality and very well engineered.
