Description

Art Deco era silver-plated cocktail shaker featuring engraved bands of thread pattern decorations around the lower half of the body and a simple pull-off cover. Inside, the pull-off top piece of the shaker shows off the pierced strainer. A simple but effective shaker for making your favourite cocktails.

Art Deco was the popular design style spreading across Europe in the 1920s and 1930s and characterised especially by sleek geometric or stylised forms. It represented luxury, glamour, exuberance, and faith in social and technological progress. For that reason silver cocktail and barware were popular categories of goods to reflect the style of the time.
