Description

Set of six antique Edwardian silver place card holders or menu holders in the classic simple round disc style that holds the menus or place cards. Their simplicity means they are perfect for complementing both traditional or contemporary table settings. And they are versatile in that they can be personalised with engraving any image, emblem or initials, which we can arrange for you.

All were made by Sampson Mordan, a leading silversmithing firm at the end of the 19th century and early 20th, in Chester and London. The workshop was famous for the fine quality craftsmanship of small silver articles.
