Description

Taking design cues from the Art Deco period, this four-piece, mid-century silver tea set comprised a large silver teapot, hot water pot, milk or cream jug and a sugar bowl. With more organic lines, this particular design portrays a gentler rendition of the Art Deco style.

The teapot and water jug have cherrywood handles and detachable finials and the water jug could alternatively used as a coffee pot.

Dimensions given are for the teapot. Coffee pot 175mm (7") tall; cream jug 90mm (3½"); sugar bowl 80mm (3¼").

Art Deco was a popular design style throughout Europe in the 1920s and '30s characterised especially by sleek geometric or stylised forms. It represented luxury, glamour, exuberance, and faith in social and technological progress.
