Description

Most impressive large antique silver salver from the first year of Queen Victoria's reign. The surface is hand chased with a profusion of various flowers, tendrils and foliage while the cast and applied border is a riot of decorations, all in high relief: flowers, grapes, scrolls, Bacchus masks, lion heads and claws all make up the abundant decoration.

This heavy-gauge salver rests on four cast and hand-chased scroll, acanthus leaf and scallop shell supports.
