Description

Late-18th-century silver salver of oval form, mounted on four tapering cast silver supports and decorated with an applied moulded thread pattern border. Elegant simplicity personified, and perfect to be incorporated into any table setting, whether traditional or modern.

We've chosen to serve petit fours but this antique silver salver would be perfect to hold small canapés, a decanter or glass.

An identical silver salver is also available, which would make an excellent pair.
