Description

This charming antique sterling silver collapsible beaker is cleverly made in six interlocking sections allowing it to compress from 95 mm in height to a pocket-sized 20 mm. Made in 1919, it is perfect for use at picnics and other outdoor pursuits.

When extended the beaker has a capacity of 150 ml, the equivalent of six shots of whiskey or cognac. In Ireland the equivalent would be a touch over four standard measures! It makes a great gift for lovers of countryside pursuits.
