

LANGFORDS

Antique & Contemporary Silver

Victorian silver-plated wine jug

Maker Not Recorded

Sold

REF: 2277

Height: 280 mm (11.02")

Description

This good quality silver-plated claret jug or wine jug was made in the mid 19th century with a beautifully decorated collar depicting grape vines and Bacchanalian masks with a cast spout in the form of Bacchus himself.

The finial is cast as a heraldic lion holding a shield with portcullis engraving and the plain glass body has a star cut base.